NOTE.—The Occupations are here arranged according to the principle of classification adopted in the Census Returns of 1851. The 17 classes are further sub-divided into sub-classes which are indicated by the reference numbers inserted in this Table. The whole of the Living are returned under the several Classes, but they are only distinguished in the separate occupations in which deaths occurred during the week.

* Persons connected with the land as proprietors are in some instances returned in other classes, where they are referred to their respective occupations.

† Inmates of public institutions are referred to specific occupations when the nature of their former employment is stated.

NOTE.—The deaths of last week may be compared with the average of deaths in corresponding weeks of 1845–54, after raising the average by a tenth part. This correction is made for increase of population; and the same rule applies to the average of deaths in any district, or from any cause, except those for which the returns of ten years are not complete. The averages of Hampstead and Lewisham are derived from the deaths of only 8 years.

Cistern of bar. 159 ft. above mean level of sea. Readings coincident with those of R.S.'s flint-glass standard bar. Obs. taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; 9h. P.M. The means of readings in Cols. 4, 7, 8, observed at these times, stand as corrected by Mr. Glaisher from obs. of 5 yrs. ending Dec. 31, 1845 (Phil. Trans., Pt. 1, 1848). From values thus obtained, Col. 13 is derived. Col. 7 includes results deduced from max. and min. (self-registering) thermom. with corrections. Readings in Cols. 9, 10, 11, 12 are placed opposite the day which precedes that on which the thermometers are read. The numbers in Cols. 14 and 15 are determined by the use of maximum and minimum thermometers with wetted bulbs. Col. 16 is determined by Mr. Glaisher from all the thermometrical observations made at the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, in the 38 years ending 1851. In Col. 16, + means higher, - lower than average. Temp. of Thames is obtained from self-registering therm. suspended from Dreadnought Hosp. Ship, 2 ft. below the surface (under Captain Sanders, R.N., Superintendent). Whewell's anemometer (Col. 22.) is read at 10h. A.M. The result is for 24 hours previous, and is placed opposite the day preceding that on which the reading is taken.

The mean reading of a thermometer placed on the mainmast of the Dreadnought, and read each day at 9h. A.M., was 41.7°; and the mean reading at 9h. P.M. was 42.3°; the mean readings at the Royal Observatory for the same times were 39.0° and 40.2° respectively.

The reading of the barometer increased from 29.79 in. at the beginning of the week to 30.20 in. by 9h. A.M. on the 26th; decreased to 29.88 in. by 3h. P.M. on the 27th; increased to 30.01 in. by 9h. P.M. on the 28th; decreased to 29.88 in. by 9h. A.M. on the 30th; turned to increase after 3h. P.M., and was 29.97 in. at 9h. A.M. on December 1; and 29.82 in. at the end of the week.

HEALTH OF LONDON DURING THE WEEK.

In the week that ended on Saturday 1099 persons, of whom 554 were males, 545 females, died in London. The total number differs little from that of the preceding week, which was 1124. The average number of deaths in the ten corresponding weeks of the years 1845-54 was 1277, and this, if raised by a tenth part for comparison with last week's mortality which occurred in an increased population, becomes 1405. But this result represents more than the normal rate of mortality, in consequence of influenza which was epidemic in 1847, and together with bronchitis and pneumonia carried off in the corresponding week of that year about 850 persons. It may be stated, however, in general terms, that the present mortality is not high for London at the beginning of December.

Of 242 deaths assigned to diseases of the respiratory organs, 119 were caused by bronchitis, 93 by pneumonia, 17 by asthma, 13 by pleurisy, laryngitis, &c. Phthisis, which made a larger contribution to the mortality than any other special disease, was fatal in 137 cases, about one half of which occurred to persons between the ages of 20 and 40 years. To the class of zymotic diseases 239 deaths are referred, and they are thus distributed: small-pox 14, measles 27, scarlatina 53, hooping-cough 39, typhus 45, croup (which was unusually fatal) 18, diarrhoea 17, erysipelas 10, metria 4, thrush 3, remittent fever 5, syphilis 2, rheumatic fever 1, and dysentery 1. Scarlatina shows a disposition to decline; the greatest number of cases occurred in the Eastern districts, the disease being rather fatal in Bethnal-green, where seven deaths from it are recorded. Two persons died of disease brought on by intemperance; and 2 from delirium tremens.

Last week the births of 780 boys and 751 girls, in all 1531 children, were registered in London. In the ten corresponding weeks of the years 1845-54 the average number was 1463.

The air was cold throughout the week, and on five days the thermometer fell below the freezing point. At the Royal Observatory the mean temperature, which had been above 39° in the two previous weeks, was 36·1° last week, which is 5·1° below the average. On four days the mean was from 5° to 8·7° below the average. The highest temperature occurred on Tuesday and Wednesday, and was 45·1°; the lowest on Monday, and was 28·5°. The mean temperature of the water of the Thames was 41°. The mean dew-point temperature was 32·1°, and the difference between this and the mean air temperature was 4°. The highest reading of the barometer was 29·92 in. on Monday. The mean of the week was 29·564 in. The wind blew from the south-west on Tuesday and Wednesday ; at other times it was in the north, generally north-west. Rain fell to the amount of 0·23 in., most of which fell on Saturday. Snow fell on the night of Monday, and the mornings of Thursday and Saturday.

ST. PANCRAS ; Gray's Inn Lane.—At 42 Upper North-place, on 6th December, the daughter of a tailor, aged 3 years, “scarlatina (12 days).” A death in the same house, from the same disease, was reported last week. The medical attendant repeats the statement, which he made in the previous case, with reference to the bad drainage of the house.

NOTE.—The Occupations are here arranged according to the principle of classification adopted in the Census Returns of 1851. The 17 classes are further sub-divided into sub-classes which are indicated by the reference numbers inserted in this Table. The whole of the Living are returned under the several Classes, but they are only distinguished in the separate occupations in which deaths occurred during the week.

* Persons connected with the land as proprietors are in some instances returned in other classes, where they are referred to their respective occupations.

† Inmates of public institutions are referred to specific occupations when the nature of their former employment is stated.

* Since the end of 1847 the classification of diseases has undergone some modifications, in consequence of which corrections are necessary, in some places, in calculating the average. An average for metria, derived from the last 7 years and multiplied by 3, is added to the total of class 1 and deducted from the total of class 9; and in like manner an average for rheumatic fever, derived from the last 7 years and multiplied by 3, is added to the total of class 1, and deducted from the total of class 10. Corresponding deductions are made from the totals of the particular diseases childbirth and rheumatism. In the lines partly formed by asterisks the averages are derived not from the deaths of 10 years but those of 7 years.

DEATHS Registered in the FORTY-NINTH WEEK of each of the following Years, with the Mean Temperature for the same periods.

NOTE.—The deaths of last week may be compared with the average of deaths in corresponding weeks of 1845-54 after raising the average by a tenth part. This correction is made for increase of population; and the same rule applies to the average of deaths in any district, or from any cause, except those for which the returns of ten years are not complete. The averages of Hampstead and Lewisham are derived from the deaths of only 8 years.

HEALTH OF LONDON DURING THE WEEK.

THE effect of the cold weather recently experienced is now written very legibly in the mortuary registers. The deaths registered in London, which in the previous week were 1099, rose last week to 1271; and it may be stated that the rate of mortality represented by this number of deaths is, at least, equal to the average for this advanced period of the year. Since the second week of November, when the deaths were below 1000, and the mean temperature was  $41^{\circ}$ , the returns exhibit an increase of 300 deaths, and the weekly temperature has declined to  $32\cdot7^{\circ}$ .

There were registered last week 627 males and 644 females. Of these, without distinction of sex, 574 died under twenty years of age, 182 at twenty years and under forty, 241 were from forty to sixty years of age, 202 sixty years old and less than eighty; and instead of 33 octogenarians who died in the previous week, 60 died last week. A woman died in the Greenwich workhouse at the great age of 101.

Of the 1271 deaths, 246 are due to diseases of the zymotic character, and 267 to diseases of the respiratory organs, exclusive of 143 caused by phthisis and 40 by hooping-cough. Fatal cases arising from bronchitis do not exhibit the increase which might be expected from the increase of the total mortality; for in each of the last two weeks the number referred to that complaint is 119; nor is the increase great from pneumonia, which numbered in the same periods 93 and 105. They are both fatal to nearly the amount that is usual at this season. Scarlatina grows less fatal, and while it declines, measles shows an increase. Both prevail most in the Central districts: measles in St. Mary-le-Strand and the City-road; scarlatina in St. Andrew Eastern and Goswell-street sub-districts. A family in Prospect-terrace, Bromley, lost three children from scarlatina maligna; they died on three consecutive days.

Last week the births of 781 boys and 791 girls, in all 1572 children, were registered in London. In the ten corresponding weeks of the years 1845-54 the average number was 1440.

There was a new moon on Sunday (the 9th). The highest reading of the barometer was  $30\cdot07$  in. at the end of the week; and the mean was  $29\cdot874$  in. The mean temperature of the week was  $32\cdot7^{\circ}$ , which is  $7\cdot6^{\circ}$  below the average of the same week in 38 years. The mean temperature was  $11\cdot6^{\circ}$  below the average on Sunday,  $8\cdot2^{\circ}$  below it on Monday, and  $10\cdot2^{\circ}$ ,  $11^{\circ}$ , and  $13^{\circ}$  below it on the three following days. On Friday it began to rise, and on Saturday it was  $4\cdot4^{\circ}$  above the average. The mean temperature of Thursday was only  $27\cdot2^{\circ}$ , that of Saturday was  $44\cdot2^{\circ}$ . The lowest temperature of the week occurred on the former day, when the thermometer fell to  $21\cdot3^{\circ}$ . The highest temperature in the week occurred on the latter day, and was  $48^{\circ}$ . The mean dew-point temperature of the week was  $31\cdot7^{\circ}$ , and the difference between that and the mean temperature of the air was only  $1^{\circ}$ . The mean temperature of the water of the Thames was  $37\cdot2^{\circ}$ . The water was coldest on the day on which the air was warmest. The wind, which at first was in the north, blew afterwards from the south-west till the end of the week, when it turned to north-west. The air was quiet. Snow fell on Monday; some rain and sleet on Friday.

NOTE.—The Occupations are here arranged according to the principle of classification adopted in the Census Returns of 1851. The 17 classes are further sub-divided into sub-classes which are indicated by the reference numbers inserted in this Table. The whole of the Living are returned under the several Classes, but they are only distinguished in the separate occupations in which deaths occurred during the week.

* Persons connected with the land as proprietors are in some instances returned in other classes, where they are referred to their respective occupations.

† Inmates of public institutions are referred to specific occupations when the nature of their former employment is stated.

multiplied by 3, is added to the total of class 1, and deducted from the total of class 10. Corresponding deductions are made from the totals of the particular diseases childbirth and rheumatism. In the lines partly formed by asterisks the averages are derived not from the deaths of 10 years but those of 7 years.

NOTE.—The deaths of last week may be compared with the average of deaths in corresponding weeks of 1845-54, after raising the average by a tenth part. This correction is made for increase of population; and the same rule applies to the average of deaths in any district, or from any cause, except those for which the returns of ten years are not complete. The averages of Hampstead and Lewisham are derived from the deaths of only 8 years.

Cistern of bar. 159 ft. above mean level of sea. Readings coincident with those of R. S.'s flint-glass standard bar. Obs. taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; 9h. P.M. The means of readings in Cols. 4, 7, 8, observed at these times, stand as corrected by Mr. Glaisher from obs. of 5 yrs. ending Dec. 31, 1845 (Phil. Trans., Pt. 1, 1848). From values thus obtained, Col. 13 is derived. Col. 7 includes results deduced from max. and min. (self-registering) thermom. with corrections. Readings in Cols. 9, 10, 11, 12 are placed opposite the day which precedes that on which the thermometers are read. The numbers in Cols. 14 and 15 are determined by the use of maximum and minimum thermometers with wetted bulbs. Col. 16 is determined by Mr. Glaisher from all the thermometrical observations made at the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, in the 38 years ending 1851. In Col. 16, + means higher, - lower than average. Temp. of Thames is obtained from self-registering thermom. suspended from Dreadnought Hosp. Ship, 2 ft. below the surface (under Captain Sanders, R.N., Superintendent). Whewell's anemometer (Col. 22.) is read at 10h. A.M. The result is for 24 hours previous, and is placed opposite the day preceding that on which the reading is taken. The mean reading of a thermometer placed on the mainmast of the Dreadnought, and read each day at 9h. A.M., was 35.8°; and the mean reading at 9h. P.M. was 37.0°; the mean readings at the Royal Observatory for the same times were 32.5° and 33.4° respectively. The reading of the barometer increased from 29.88 in. at the beginning of the week to 29.98 in. by 9h. A.M. on the 10th; decreased to 29.60 in. by 3h. P.M. on the 12th; increased to 29.99 in. by 9h. P.M. on the 13th; decreased to 29.75 in. by 9h. P.M. on the 14th; and increased to 30.07 in. by the end of the week.

WEEKLY RETURN

BIRTHS AND DEATHS IN LONDON.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE REGISTRAR-GENERAL.

1855. VOL. XVI.] WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, DECEMBER 22.

HEALTH OF LONDON DURING THE WEEK.

It was shown in the last report that London had suffered an increase of mortality, the effect of cold weather. In the week that ended last Saturday, though the rigour of the weather was not mitigated, but augmented, the number of deaths registered was not quite equal to that of the preceding week; the numbers in the two periods having been 1271 and 1257. It is agreeable to experience, as well as reasonable in itself, to believe that some time will elapse before the effects of a change of temperature are fully manifested in the registration.

The rate of mortality, which prevailed last week, approaches very nearly the average rate of London in the third week of December.

This return includes the deaths of 634 males and 623 females. Forty-four men and women died, whose lives had been prolonged to 80 years or upwards. The deaths produced by bronchitis received a considerable accession; for having been 119 in each of the two previous weeks, they rose last week to 161, of which 45 occurred to persons under 20 years of age, and almost exclusively infants; 9 between the ages of 20 and 40; 39 in the period 40-60; 60 at the ages 60 to 80; and 8 were deaths of octogenarians. The deaths from pneumonia or inflammation of the lungs, amounting to 80, and falling principally among children, are not so numerous as in some previous weeks. Against 60 from bronchitis in the period of life 60-80 years are to be set 60 from phthisis (or consumption) which occurred in that period of greater vigour, 20 to 40 years, being about half of the total number from this disease. Fatal cases of typhus rose from 45 to 65, of which there were 10 in Shoreditch; of these 10 four occurred in Haggerstone West. Typhus, measles, hooping-cough, and scarlatina prevail now more in the East districts than in the other divisions of London. Four deaths from scarlatina occurred in Hoxton Old Town. Three deaths were registered as caused by intemperance, 4 by delirium tremens, 3 by carbuncle, one by want of the necessaries of life.

Last week the births of 759 boys and 763 girls, in all 1522 children, were registered in London. In the ten corresponding weeks of the years 1845-54 the average number was 1434.

There was a full moon on Saturday. At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the highest reading of the barometer was 30.19 in. on the morning of Wednesday. The mean reading of the week was 29.939 in. The mean temperature of the week was 28.2°, which is 10.8° below the average of the same week in 38 years. The mean of the previous week was 32.7°. The air was coldest on Friday and Saturday, the mean temperature on those days having been respectively 18.5° and 17° below the average. On Saturday the thermometer fell to 16.9°, the lowest point in the week. On the same day the lowest on grass was 5.1°. The highest temperature of the air was 42°, and occurred on Sunday (the 16th). The mean daily temperature was below the average throughout the week; and on every day after Tuesday the extent of depression was more than 13°. The mean dew-point temperature was 19.2°, and the difference between this and the mean air temperature was 9°. On Thursday this difference was so great as 22·6°. The mean temperature of the water of the Thames was 35·3°. The wind, which had been generally in the east, changed on Saturday to north-east, and in the evening to south-west. On several days the air is described by the observer as “remarkably dry.” On Saturday night snow fell; the character of the weather suddenly changed, and at midnight the temperature was 6° higher than it had been three hours before.

The Registrars, in compliance with instructions given to them, make occasional communications in their returns with reference to the deaths they have registered, and to particular circumstances in which these have occurred. The correctness of such opinions and statements must be held to rest exclusively on the testimony of the Registrars, and of the medical or other informants.

ST. GILES; North.—At 40 Keppel Mews, North, on 18th December, the wife of a cab proprietor, aged 33 years, “phthisis (2 years).” Mr. Simpson, the Registrar, writes:—“The husband of the deceased complained of the defective drainage of his house, and said that the soil in the privy overflowed into his stable, and that the atmosphere in his apartments was so bad that he should be obliged to leave. The medical man in attendance on his wife had frequently spoken to him on the subject, and, in consequence of so doing, he had applied six weeks since to the Commissioners of Sewers, but nothing had been done.”

ST. LUKE; City-road.—At 5 Richard’s-place, on 21st November, a carpenter, aged 56 years, “found dead in his room (apparently died from want).” (Inquest.)

In the same sub-district, at the Hospital, on 19th December, a shoemaker, aged 24 years, “choked himself by attempting to swallow a bagatelle ball, being insane.” (Inquest.)

LAMBETH; Waterloo (1st Part).—At 94 Cornwall-road, on 19th December, the wife of a carman, aged 62 years, “injuries from the scratches of a cat; (9 years).” No recent medical attendant.

GREENWICH; East.—At Greenwich Hospital, on 16th December, an in-pensioner, aged 62 years, “lupus (22 years).”

* Since the end of 1847 the classification of diseases has undergone some modifications, in consequence of which corrections are necessary, in some places, in calculating the average. An average for metria, derived from the last 7 years and multiplied by 3, is added to the total of class 1 and deducted from the total of class 9; and in like manner an average for rheumatic fever, derived from the last 7 years and in the FIFTY-FIRST Week of each of the following Years.

NOTE.—The deaths of last week may be compared with the average of deaths in corresponding weeks of 1845–54 after raising the average by a tenth part. This correction is made for increase of population; and the same rule applies to the average of deaths in any district, or from any cause, except those for which the returns of ten years are not complete. The averages of Hampstead and Lewisham are derived from the deaths of only 8 years.

WEEKLY RETURN

BIRTHS AND DEATHS IN LONDON.

1855. VOL. XVI.]      WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, DECEMBER 29.

HEALTH OF LONDON DURING THE WEEK.

THE TOTAL NUMBER of deaths registered in London in the week that ended last Saturday was 1485. In the ten corresponding weeks of the years 1845-54 the average number was 1190, which, if raised in a certain proportion for comparison with last week's deaths which occurred in an increased population, becomes 1309. The result obtained is an excess in the rate of mortality now prevailing, as compared with the average rate for the last week of the year.

Before the cold weather, which was recently experienced, set in, the weekly deaths were about 1100; last week the deaths registered exceeded that number by nearly 400. This increase is to be referred, in part, to the operation of natural causes in producing or aggravating diseases, and thereby increasing the rate of mortality, and partly to a cause which is periodical and incidental to the registration. At the end of the quarter there is an influx into the register books of coroner's cases, which if they had been registered when they occurred would have been spread more equally over the last and previous weeks. Such cases will be found chiefly in that section of the Table of Causes of Death which comprises drowning, hanging, fractures, burns, poison, &c., and in which are enumerated for last week 123 deaths.

Both bronchitis and pneumonia exhibit an increase in the cases in which they were fatal over those of previous weeks. The former disease caused 119, 119, 161 deaths in three preceding weeks; in the present return the number has risen to 204. Pneumonia has increased in the last two weeks from 80 to 107. Hooping-cough predominates in the zymotic class, and was fatal in 66 cases, scarlatina in 50, typhus in 50, measles in 37, small-pox in 17. Measles prevails in St. Clement Danes and part of Marylebone. Scarlatina and typhus appear to be exceedingly rife in the sub-district of St. Peter, Walworth, where 8 deaths occurred from the former or the latter form of epidemic disease. Mr. Turner, the Registrar, reports that of the 8 cases, 4 occurred in one family in Park-place, East-street. Three children were buried on one day. It appears that the house was in an unwholesome condition, and that remedial measures, at last found to be necessary, were delayed in consequence of the sickness that attacked the family.

Last week the births of 805 boys and 758 girls, in all 1563 children, were registered in London. In the ten corresponding weeks of the years 1845-54 the average number was 1332.

At the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the mean height of the barometer in the week was 29·477 in. The mean temperature, which in the previous week was 28·2°, was last week 44·8°, which is 7·2° above the average of the same week in 38 years (as determined by Mr. Glaisher). The highest temperature occurred on Friday, and was 52·4°. The lowest was 24° on Sunday (the 23d). The mean temperature was above the average on every day of the week, and on Friday this excess was 10·7°. The mean dew-point temperature was 41·7°, and the difference between this and the mean air temperature was 3°. The wind blew from the south-west. The amount of rain was 0·83 in., which fell almost entirely on the first four days. The amount of horizontal movement of the air on Wednesday was 325 miles.

The Registrars, in compliance with instructions given to them, make occasional communications in their returns with reference to the deaths they have registered, and to particular circumstances in which these have occurred. The correctness of such opinions and statements must be held to rest exclusively on the testimony of the Registrars, and of the medical or other informants.

CLERKENWELL; St. James.—At 107 Goswell-street, on 20th December, an engineer, aged 46 years, “dysentery and chronic diarrhœa (4 months), hæmaturia (14 days).” Mr. Western, the Registrar, says :—“He had been employed at the railway at Balaklava, arrived at Portsmouth on the 20th inst., was on his way home to Hull, but was taken worse in London, and conveyed to the house of a relative, where he died.”

ST. GEORGE IN THE EAST; St. Mary.—At 4 Williams’s-court, on 22d December, the son of a labourer, aged 13 months, “scarlatina (10 days), pneumonia (3 days).” A very filthy court.

KENSINGTON; Kensington Town.—At 4 Ledbury-road, on 17th November, the daughter of a labourer, aged 2 years. Accidentally poisoned by eating tips of lucifer matches. Post mort. (Inquest).

HOLBORN; St. Andrew Eastern.—At 3 Little Gray’s-inn-lane, on 25th December, a miller, aged 34 years, “miller’s dust, bronchitis.”

ST. PANCRAS; Camden Town.—At 20 Albert-street, on 26th December, the son of a bookseller, aged 2 months, “ichthyosis.”

NOTE.—The Occupations are here arranged according to the principle of classification adopted in the Census Returns of 1851. The 17 classes are further sub-divided into sub-classes which are indicated by the reference numbers inserted in this Table. The whole of the Living are returned under the several Classes, but they are only distinguished in the separate occupations in which deaths occurred during the week.

* Persons connected with the land as proprietors are in some instances returned in other classes, where they are referred to their respective occupations.

† Inmates of public institutions are referred to specific occupations when the nature of their former employment is stated.

NOTE.—The deaths of last week may be compared with the average of deaths in corresponding weeks of 1845–54, after raising the average by a tenth part. This correction is made for increase of population; and the same rule applies to the average of deaths in any district, or from any cause, except those for which the returns of ten years are not complete. The averages of Hampstead and Lewisham are derived from the deaths of only 8 years.

Cistern of bar. 159 ft. above mean level of sea. Readings coincident with those of R. S.'s flint-glass standard bar. Obs. taken at 9h. A.M.; noon; 3h. P.M.; 9h. P.M. The means of readings in Cols. 4, 7, 8, observed at these times, stand as corrected by Mr. Glaisher from obs. of 5 yrs. ending Dec. 31, 1845 (Phil. Trans., Pt. 1, 1848). From values thus obtained, Col. 13 is derived. Col. 7 includes results deduced from max. and min. (self-registering) thermom. with corrections. Readings in Cols. 9, 10, 11, 12 are placed opposite the day which precedes that on which the thermometers are read. The numbers in Cols. 14 and 15 are determined by the use of maximum and minimum thermometers with wetted bulbs. Col. 16 is determined by Mr. Glaisher from all the thermometrical observations made at the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, in the 38 years ending 1851. In Col. 16, + means higher, — lower than average. Temp. of Thames is obtained from self-registering therm. suspended from Dreadnought Hosp. Ship, 2 ft. below the surface (under Captain Sanders, R.N., Superintendent). Whewell's anemometer (Col. 22.) is read at 10h. A.M. The result is for 24 hours previous, and is placed opposite the day preceding that on which the reading is taken.

The mean reading of a thermometer placed on the mainmast of the Dreadnought, and read each day at 9h. A.M., was 46°·5°; and the mean reading at 9h. P.M. was 46°·5°; the mean readings at the Royal Observatory for the same times were 45°·4° and 45°·2° respectively.

The reading of the barometer decreased from 29·81 in. at the beginning of the week to 28·98 in. by 3h. P.M. on the 26th; and increased to 29·86 in. at the end of the week.

BIRTHS AND DEATHS IN LONDON.

LONDON QUARTERLY SUMMARY.

IN the last 13 weeks of the year 1855 13,840 persons died from all causes in London; 3079 from zymotic diseases, 620 from dropsy, cancer, and other diathetic diseases; 2233 from tubercular diseases; 5733 from inflammations and other diseases of particular organs; 45 from malformations; 357 from premature birth and debility; 407 from atrophies; and 537 from old age. The causes of 163 deaths, generally sudden, were not ascertained. 448 persons died violent deaths; namely, 5 by cold, 22 by poison, 75 by burns and scalds, 15 by hanging, 46 by suffocation, 76 by drowning, 162 by fractures and contusions, 30 by wounds, 17 by other violence. Of the zymotic diseases scarlatina (774), typhus (608), hooping-cough (441), and diarrhœa (316), are most fatal. Of cancer 271 persons, of consumption 1627, of bronchitis, pneumonia, and pleurisy, 2208 died.

2496 of the deaths, or nearly 1 in 6, occurred in the public institutions of London; 1333 in the workhouses, 71 in military and naval asylums, 873 in civil hospitals, 81 in military and naval hospitals, 12 in hospitals and asylums for foreigners, 98 in lunatic asylums, and 28 in prisons. 77 deaths took place in St. George's, 88 in The London, 94 in St. Thomas's, 100 in Guy's, and 143 in St. Bartholomew's hospitals. 422 deaths took place in five large workhouses; 52 in the East London, 80 in Lambeth, 81 in St. Giles, 100 in Marylebone, and 109 in Pancras.

3501 of the persons who died were men of the age of 20 and upwards; 113 were engaged in the Government service, general or local; 205 were in the army or navy; 82 were members of the learned professions, or their subordinates; 29 were engaged in literature, the fine arts, or sciences; 442 were engaged in entertaining, clothing, and performing personal offices for man; 172 were capitalists, proprietors, merchants, or clerks; 439 were engaged in the carrying trades; 76 were agriculturists or gardeners; 34 were engaged about horses and other animals; 624 were engaged in art and mechanic productions; 173 worked and dealt in animal substances; 420 in vegetable substances; 253 in minerals; 248 were labourers or of other ill-defined classes; 133 were persons of rank or property not returned under any office or occupation.

THE WATER SUPPLY OF LONDON.

It appeared from the mortality returns both of 1849 and of 1854 that a great excess in the deaths from cholera occurred wherever bad water was supplied. Subsequently to the first period a parliamentary committee sat; and an Act was passed on July 1st, 1852, to enable, and to compel if necessary, the water companies to supply London with "pure and wholesome water."

It is gratifying to find that the London water companies are now strenuously exerting themselves to carry out the Act of Parliament. The Southwark, the West Middlesex, and the Grand Junction, in September 1853 derived their water from the Thames where it was more or less polluted. Now they supply the West and South districts as well as Marylebone with Thames water of a purer quality, drawn from parts beyond the range of the tide and the reach of the sewers. The East London Company has ascended the Lea, and instead of drawing its water from the river at Lea Bridge takes it from near Chingford, Essex. The improved works of the New River are "nearly completed."

The districts of Chelsea, Westminster, and Belgravia still derive water from the impure source that has been abandoned by the other companies, and is ere long to be abandoned by the Chelsea Company.

It will be gratifying to the people of London to learn that they are now largely supplied with a comparatively "pure and wholesome water"; admitting still further, without doubt, of improvement, but incomparably better than the water of 1849 or 1853.

The water companies deserve credit for what they have achieved. They have invested a large amount of capital, it is stated, already in these improvements; but the security of the whole mass of their property, now held by a monopoly, is thereby infinitely increased, and they may expect the same kind of advantages as a landlord who has invested large sums in draining and improving his estates.

The information in the annexed Table (page 435) has been supplied by the water companies.

At a future time the effect of the improvement of the water supply on the health of London will be investigated; and the results, it may be confidently expected, will be as gratifying as the results of the former inquiries were painful.

NOTE.—The Occupations are here arranged according to the principle of classification adopted in the Census Returns of 1851. The 17 classes are further sub-divided into sub-classes which are indicated by the reference numbers inserted in this Table. The whole of the Living are returned under the several Classes, but they are only distinguished in the separate occupations in which deaths occurred during the quarter.
* Persons connected with the land as proprietors are in some instances returned in other classes, where they are referred to their respective occupations.
† Inmates of public institutions are referred to specific occupations when the nature of their former employment is stated.
